LIFE NOT GIVEN TO MEN AND WOMEN TO FRITTER AWAY.

INFLUENCE OF TEACHERS

Rev. Parvin Says They Stand Next to Preachers in Community—High Praise for Domestic Science.

The baccalaureate services for the Northwest Normal graduating class were largely attended at the First Christian Church Sunday night. The pastor, Rev. Claude J. Miller, had charge of the services.

The special organ numbers by Dr. D. J. Thomas were a fitting opening and closing for an occasion of that kind, and the choir work in three special numbers was of an unusually high order. The processional hymn was very impressive. The solo by Mrs. D. J. Thomas and the trio by Mrs. F. P. Robinson, Mr. Glen Goff and Mr. H. J. Becker were well given as any number these singers have given at any time in our city.

The sermon by Rev. W. J. Parvin on the subject, "A Rightly Applied Life," was thoroughly thoughtful and practical, and the members of the graduating class were not the only persons present who derived benefit from the minister's words.

Before beginning his sermon Rev. Parvin said he wished to tell the students and faculty of the Normal of a compliment he heard passed upon them by a man who had occasion to visit the Normal recently during the chapel hour assembly—the highest compliment that could be paid them from the viewpoint of a minister. He said that the visitor said that he noticed that all the students seemed to be present and that during the prayer every student head was bowed. Then he looked to the faculty and saw that every head of that body was also bowed, and he concluded that with such a spirit of reverence in all Normal schools and colleges and universities throughout the land, there would be no need for denominational schools to keep alive the reverence for God and His Word.

Rev. Parvin's text was from the 12th verse of the 90th Psalm: "So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

"If, after all your study and application, you intend to devote your time to the social whirl, and be leaders in the bunny hug, the grizzly bear dance and the turkey trot, or be ambitious to win the cut glass vase at a game of bridge whist, it would be far better for you to have remained in ignorance and left penniless," Rev. Parvin said during his sermon. "You would be better off as a washwoman than to fritter away your life in social idleness."

Rev. Parvin said: "The Psalmist had discovered the shortness and uncertainty of life and he had learned to set a value upon it. Religion is not merely intended to save your soul, it is intended to save your life and make it a blessing to the world—to all who come in contact with you. Our schools are wonderful institutions these days. They are teaching men and women that they are made for service and are bringing about a plan whereby the difficult economic conditions that are confronting us may be solved."

Rev. Parvin rejoiced that the schools of today are teaching a complete education, so that all labor may become honorable and useful in the eyes of even those who only a few years ago were degrading the fact that in our children were not trained for the professions that our boys and girls would be nothing but "hewers of wood and drawers of water." He thanked God that education of these days are making honorable those things and fitting the boys and girls to become the best "hewers of wood and drawers of water."

He exhorted the class to go into the world prepared to work hard and apply their knowledge to something that would be a benefit to the world. Do not stop now, but go to work and do not work for money alone. That is the least thing to be considered. The money will come if you work with the right spirit for money earning capacity has been increased. It is not a question of how much money you get,

but it is a great question of how much you earn. It is better for you to earn more than you get. Do not stagnate, for that is the next thing to damnation. Don't seek popularity. Do right and let the consequences be what they may. It is better to be right and be cursed than to be popular and ashamed of yourself.

Remember your influence as a teacher, whether you so recognize it or not, is and should be second only to that of the preacher in your community and you are being watched as close as he.

Rev. Parvin gave unstinted praise to the domestic science department of the Normal and said its students could well become preachers' wives because they were learning how to make a small salary go a long ways.

HOW MANY LOAVES HAVE YE?

Rev. Harkness Drew a Great Lesson from the Parable for the High School Class.

An immense audience that taxed the capacity of the First M. E. Church listened to the baccalaureate sermon of the high school graduating class Sunday night. Rev. Samuel D. Harkness, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was the speaker and his subject was "The Unrealized Possibilities in Life." Rev. Harkness chose for this text a portion of the thirty-eighth verse of the sixth chapter of the Gospel of St. Mark, "How many loaves have ye? go and see." The speaker delivered a very forceful sermon and he closed with a plea to the graduating class of 1912 that they should so conduct themselves in the years to come that they may serve as an inspiration and an example to the coming classes.

A GRAND OLD STATE

IN FRONT RANK OF COMMONWEALTHS FOR ADVANCEMENT

EDUCATION HER BOAST

A Million Children in the Public Schools and Over 80,000 in Higher Institutions of Learning.

"The State of Missouri—a Land of Diversified Plenty," is the title opening chapter of the 1910 Red Book just issued by the state bureau of labor statistics. In a bulletin issued last week, Commissioner Austin W. Biggs points out some of the many advantages and opportunities offered by Missouri and quotes from the 1910 Red Book as follows:

"The wonderful progress which Missouri has made in the past few years has served to place the state in the front rank of the commonwealths which have attracted special attention by their rapid advancement along every line. In fact, no state in the Union has developed so rapidly as Missouri, and no state offers such advantages to the homeseeker."

"Missouri welcomes the settler, the homeseeker and the investor, and offers such opportunities as will tend to produce a happy, contented and prosperous citizenship. To the man with energy and a fair knowledge of the enterprise in which he means to engage the state holds out such inducements as can be found in no other commonwealth."

"Missouri's educational and social progress has kept pace with her advancement along agricultural and commercial lines, and it is our proud boast that throughout the state there is 'a church on every hilltop and a school house in every valley.' Long since has been dissipated the foolish notion that the average Missourian was a walking arsenal, and that a bandit lurked behind every tree. Missouri, with her great state university, her splendid normal schools and her many smaller schools and colleges, all with an attendance of more than 80,000 students, as well as her more than 12,000 high schools and district schools, where more than 1,000,000 children go each year, attest strongly to the fact that this state ranks high in education and culture."

"Because of Missouri's diversified farm products a complete crop failure is unknown. Although Missouri ranks high as an agricultural state, it is safe to say that when her swamp lands, which exceed 2,000,000 acres of fine agricultural land, are properly drained and producing she will take her place at the head of the column and keep it. Whether it be along the lines of agriculture, horticulture, mining, dairying or manufacturing, the state is found in the front rank, leading in many productions and standing high in all others."

PERITONITIS KILLED

N. T. HORNBUCKLE VICTIM OF DISEASE AT HOSPITAL.

ILL ONLY THREE DAYS

Funeral Services Tuesday Afternoon at Myrtle Tree Church—Widow and Six Children Survive.

Noble Thomas Hornbuckle, a well-known farmer living nine miles northeast of Maryville, died at St. Francis hospital Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, where he was taken Saturday night.

Mr. Hornbuckle was taken suddenly ill Thursday forenoon while at work in the field with a complicated case of peritonitis. He attempted to walk to the house, but was unable to walk only a part of the way, when a buggy was brought for him and he was taken to the home of Charles Hollensbe, a neighbor, whose residence was nearer than his own home. Mr. Hornbuckle suffered intensely and he was not able to be moved to his home. Saturday night he was brought to St. Francis hospital, but it was the opinion of five physicians that an operation would not save him, which was verified in the autopsy held.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Myrtle Tree Church, conducted by Rev. Lindenmeyer of Pickering. Burial in Myrtle Tree cemetery.

Mr. Hornbuckle is survived by his wife and six children: Mrs. George Hantz of Pickering; Miss Fay Hornbuckle and Claude, Elmer and Glen Hornbuckle at home, and James Hornbuckle living near Barnard.

Mr. Hornbuckle was born August 12, 1858, in Jackson county, Mo., near Kansas City. By the time he was fifteen years of age both his parents had died and he was left to his own resources. By hard work and good habits of life, which he always maintained, he prospered well and was held in esteem by all who knew him. Sixteen years ago he moved his family to Nodaway county to the farm where he died. He was married on the 20th day of November, 1874, to Miss Anna Lee Houch of Clinton county, where they lived until their removal to Nodaway county.

CONCEPTION WON.

Defeated the Normal Team Saturday By a Score of 10 to 8.

In a nine act comedy drama in which the villain, error played the leading role, the Conception college baseball nine trampled the State Normal ball tossers under their feet at the Normal ball theatre Saturday afternoon by a count of ten to eight. Fifteen bobbles were made in the course of the game and ten of them were marked up against the locals. That number lacked only one of being as many as they have made in all the rest of the games of the season put together. Both Felix, the visiting pitcher, and Wilson, the Normal mound artist, pitched a good game but errors mixed in with hits were responsible for almost all of the runs. Wilson allowed eight hits and struck out eleven while Felix allowed one more hit and whiffed eight.

Bee Keeping for Women.

"Nothing could induce us to give up bee keeping for, aside from the profit, the larger returns of health and happiness, the pure joy of living in the sunshine and watching the tireless workers as they come in with loads of pollen and nectar outweigh any financial consideration," says a writer in Farmer's Wife.

To sum it all up bee keeping is pre-eminently a "woman's job" whether for pleasure or profit or for a combination of both. The financial returns compare favorably with anything else from farm or garden, while to those who love outdoor life bee keeping is the most fascinating of all avocations.

Tonight "An Open Secret"

Do you like to be told a secret? Come to the Normal Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock and learn it. A healthful relaxation. Admission 15 cents.

GROWING DEAF: Probably 90 per cent of persons over fifty years of age are more or less affected as to their hearing, but as we have, naturally, a far greater capacity for hearing than we need, a little less of that capacity is not observable unless a test is applied, such, for instance, as listening to the tick of a watch. Ordinarily one should hear such a sound at a distance of 50 inches, however, a test won't be controlled to some extent by the make of the watch. A heavy rough made movement in a watch would, of course, make a louder and rougher noise, while the machinery of a fine watch would give forth a more delicate sound that would not strike the hearing forcibly.

It is true that science has not, up to this day, found a cure for deafness any more than it has discovered something to bring a growth of hair to the shiny bald head, and yet by the use of trumpets, fans and other devices of the kind, those who are deaf may be made to hear, and a wig will, in a way, give one a "good head of hair." Neither of these methods, however, are entirely satisfactory.

The cause of the loss of hearing is rarely ever what it is generally supposed to be and hence the efforts usually made to cure deafness are rarely successful.

It is generally supposed that the imbedding and hardening of wax in the ears is the frequent cause of deafness. It is only a very rare cause, and in most cases the very thing that causes the hardening of wax in the ears is the real cause of the deafness. When the ear is perfectly healthy, the formation of wax cannot be too great in the inner ear. It is a secretion as natural and necessary to the hearing as any other secretion of the human system that has a duty to perform. Moreover, this wax should never be removed with ear picks or any other instrument. If there comes a time when hardening wax must be removed it should be done by a physician with warm water and a syringe properly curved at the nozzle. In attempting this yourself there is a great danger of damage to the delicate tissues of the ear drum. The wax when in normal condition should not be removed from the inner ear. When it has flowed to the hollow of the outer ear, it may be cleaned away by a wash rag in the regular morning or evening washings. There is an old German proverb which ought to be the law because it is such good advice: "Never put anything into your ear smaller than your elbow."

The first attack of deafness is rarely permanent, but to prevent the loss of hearing, it is best to ward off, as much as possible, the causes. This can be largely done by keeping near, in the bathroom, bedroom, medicine chest or on a convenient shelf, a nasal spray or douche and some kind of a mild alkaline and antiseptic wash. When you have been exposed to an infection, a common cold or other disease, in crowds, stuffy and unsanitary atmosphere, or when you are feeling a drying, tickling sensation in your nose and throat, use this wash thoroughly, and by constant vigilance you will not only ward off deafness but also colds and other distresses of the throat, ears, eyes, brain, lungs, etc. Under all circumstances this is "an ounce of prevention" that is worth all attempts to cure, because a deep set case of deafness has, in most cases, come to stay.

CLUB NOTES.

Dear Doctor: Kindly inform me if there is any cure for lateral curvature of the spine. State the effects of it, and if there is nothing done to relieve this condition, will it go from bad to worse?

O. S. O.

I know a young woman who is now a teacher of physical culture. When about 20 she developed a lateral curvature of the spine. I put her on a severe course of physical exercises and inside of one year she was perfectly straight and in better health than ever before. Where there is a will there is a way. You can be straightened if you will to be, and then practice regularly and vigorously the proper exercises. Osteopathy would help but you must do most of the work.

A horizontal bar is one of the requisites. Of course, it will grow worse if you do nothing to hinder it from so doing.

DR. DAVID H. REEDER.

Dear Doctor: In cases of too much acid in the blood is there anything except Fowler's Solution of Arsenic that I could take to overcome the difficulty? And is there any danger in taking the solution, say 8 months or more? I have Eczema, and it's very distressing. Have had it four or five years by spells.

I never recommend poisons of any kind under any circumstances as a medicine. Any condition of the blood can be changed by a properly selected diet. Acidity is caused primarily by fermentation of the food in the alimentary canal. Go to the source of the disease, change your diet, don't eat so much but chew more, drink at least a gallon of water daily. Try this for two months and let me have a report at that time. If necessary, I will then give you more specific directions.

RICHESON TO DIE TUESDAY MORNING

Regains His Composure and is Prepared for the End.

BODY TO REST IN FAMILY LOT

Father of Murderer Relents at Last Moment and Will Permit Burial in Spot Chosen by Condemned Son.

Boston, May 20.—"I have made my peace with God; I am resigned to my fate. I wish now to go to my death as soon as possible, the quicker the better."

These words were spoken by Clarence V. T. Richeson, former Baptist minister and confessed slayer of Avis Linnell, to the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, his spiritual adviser. They expressed the mental condition of the condemned man, whose tenure of life is now measured only by hours.

There is much reason to believe that he will go to his death in the electric chair shortly after midnight Tuesday morning.

No Time for Sleep.

Reclining on a cot in his death cell, Richeson talked long and earnestly with Mr. Johnson and the prison chaplain, the Rev. Herbert W. Stebbins.

"I do not want to sleep. I have so little time to live and so much I want to say that I must talk," he said.

Part of the conversation was of a meditative and religious nature, and part was reminiscent. The prisoner reviewed countless incidents of his college days in Liberty Mo.

When the hour of death arrives three physicians, the prison doctor, the county medical examiner and the surgeon general of the commonwealth, will attend as the legal witnesses. The prison chaplain also is entitled to attend.

Reporters May Attend.

Besides these there may be three witnesses designated by the warden. An appeal having been made to Gov. Foss by press associations for representation, the warden decided to accede to the wishes of the governor, and probably will name as the three other witnesses representatives of three press associations. Richeson had requested that his counsel, William A. Morse, be present, but the warden was compelled to deny the request, as all the witnesses permitted by law had been arranged for.

Richeson was deeply pleased when told that his father had promised his body should lie beside that of his mother in the family lot in Virginia.

After visiting Richeson Dr. MacLaughlin, the prison physician, said that he found the condemned man in a satisfactory condition.

"He is calm and resigned, and resting easily," said the doctor.

Douglas Richeson of Chicago, a brother of the condemned man, arrived in Boston and planned to visit the death house during the evening.

SOCIALISTS FAVOR SUFFRAGE

The National Convention Bids for Women's Vote—Much Attention Given White Slave Traffic.

Indianapolis, May 20.—The national convention of the Socialists of the United States adjourned with the members entirely satisfied with the outcome. It had nominated a national ticket, evenly balanced, the presidential candidate being one of the most radical labor leaders, Eugene V. Debs of Terre Haute, and the second place on the ticket filled by Emil Seidel, conservative and advocate of the "Milwaukee Idea."

The convention went squarely on record late in the day as in favor of woman's suffrage in every form and hit the hardest blow at the white slave traffic ever aimed by any national gathering. It pledged the party, in every community where it obtains control, to abolish all restricted districts and to prosecute all resort proprietors.

MAY FESTIVAL DREW BIG CROWD

Missouri University Girls Gave Play After Coronation of Queen and Parade.

Columbia, Mo., May 20.—Miss Jean Harris of Rolla, Mo., was crowned Queen of the May by the University of Missouri co-eds on the campus here. The coronation festivities attracted hundreds of visitors to the campus.

The women of the university marched under huge green arches, led by the queen and Miss Iva Thomas of Kansas City, president of the senior girls. The girls, formed according to their class. At the throne, erected at the foot of the columns, Miss Thomas placed the crown of flowers on Miss Harris. Following that there was a May pole dance. The girls presented "The Blue Bird" on the campus at night.

Marysville, Kan., May 20.—An interstate Kansas-Nebraska old soldiers' reunion is to be held in this city in August. W. H. Smith of this city is president of the association just formed and Capt. C. M. Murdock of Wymore, Neb., is vice-president.

COBB MAY NEVER PLAY BALL AGAIN

Johnson Threatens Blacklist for All Strikers.

ENTIRE NEW TEAM FOR DETROIT

Says United Strength of all Organized Baseball Will be Used to Maintain Discipline—Jennings to Stay.

Philadelphia, May 20.—"Play or be blacklisted" was the smashing ultimatum that President Ban Johnson of the American league aimed at the striking Detroit players. To clinch his argument he made the statement that the Detroit team could not appear against the Athletics unless the regular men were in the lineup. When the Detroit men heard this they said they would not appear unless Cobb was reinstated. Then the president cancelled the game and called a meeting of all American league club presidents to be held in this city immediately. Ty Cobb, says Johnson, has been eliminated from the discussion of the matter. It is now the question of insubordination that the magnate has to deal with.

Waited for Navin.

The chief of the American league arrived here in the afternoon and waited until late in the evening in the hope that before making a statement he could pay to President Navin of the Detroit club the courtesy of conferring with him first. But when President Navin failed to put in an appearance President Johnson took action himself and announced that he whole power of the American league, of the forces of organized baseball in fact would be combined in crushing out of effort of the players to end the reign of organized discipline.

Summarized these are the vital points of the methods by which President Johnson will end the insurrection.

The Cobb case is dismissed absolutely from the argument. The issue is one that goes far beyond that. The refusal of the Detroit players to play in the game on Saturday is insubordination and until that offense is dealt with and the team is on the field again the case of Cobb will never be considered. In other words Detroit must play or the baseball career of Cobb is ended.

Jennings Keeps His Job.

There will be no game at Shibe park nor will a Detroit team take the field on Tuesday for the first game at Washington. But by Wednesday in case the striking players have not succeeded in making their peace with the American league an entirely new Detroit team will have been formed and they will play out the remainder of the schedule.

In case a new Detroit team is put in the field, probabilities are that for the unheard of offense of refusing to play, the striking players will be blacklisted or suspended for an extended period.

Manager Jennings has just put himself in line with Johnson and agreed to do whatever President Johnson might desire, including taking the job of managing the new team which will be put in the field in place of the club that Jennings led.

In this way Jennings keeps his job even though the men he failed to advise and lead are running a serious risk of being deprived of employment in their profession forever.

MELVILLE, LA., IS INUNDATED

Levee on Atchafalaya River Gave Way—Government Steamer Sent to the Rescue.

Baton Rouge, La., May 20.—The town of Melville was inundated when the levee on the west bank of the Atchafalaya river, 16 miles north, broke. Less than half of the town's 1,100 population remained. Many left to avoid the long threatened submerging of their homes. Capt. Logan, in charge of the federal rescue corps dispatched the steamship Minnesota with a barge to Melville to bring away those who wished to leave, together with their household effects and live stock.

DUMPED SIXTY INTO THE WATER

Steamer's Gangplank Broke, Drowning Two and Injuring Over Forty Others.

Seattle, Wash., May 20.—Two persons were drowned and 40 or more were injured when the adjustable end of a temporary passenger gangplank at the Colman dock dropped, precipitating 60 passengers into the water. They were preparing to board the Sound steamer Flyer for Tacoma. Most of the injured were only slightly bruised or cut by striking against piling or the hull of the Flyer when they fell into the water, and all will recover.

Cutting Alfalfa Now.

Courtland, Kan., May 20.—The first crop of alfalfa is being cut near Courtland. It is almost two weeks earlier than usual in this section. The crop will be a heavy one and is being cut earlier this year because of the scarcity of feed.

Stearns & Foster Mattresses

If you will come and see the Mattress display in our show window all this week, you will readily understand why these Mattresses are so comfortable, so durable, so thoroughly good in every way that there is really no comparison between them and other makes. The display shows how the Mattresses are made, how one layer of material—the best always—is placed above another, how the nine layers are compressed together and how finally the whole mattress is completed. It is an interesting exhibit and an instructive one, and if you are wise a profitable one.

We have the exclusive sale of these mattresses and the line represents the following: Lenox, Paragon, Mission, Windsor and Anchor.

Don't forget that the exhibit will be in our window all this week. We want to sell 100 mattresses during this demonstration and in order to do so will make a special price on every mattress. It will be to your advantage to come early.

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made from Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs which unfortunately are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hair, however handsome it may be, makes a person look old. We all know the advantages of being young. Aside from the good impression a youthful appearance makes on others, simply knowing that you are "looking fit" gives one courage to undertake and accomplish things. So why suffer the handicap of looking old on account of gray hairs, when a simple remedy will give your hair youthful color and beauty in a few days' time?

Most people know that common garden sage acts as a color restorer and scalp tonic as well. Our grandmothers used a "Sage Tea" for keeping their hair dark, soft and luxuriant. In Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy we have an ideal preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp and thin, weak hair that is split at the ends or constantly coming out. A few applications of this valuable remedy will bring back the color, and in a short time it will remove every trace of dandruff and greatly improve the growth and appearance of the hair.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and notice the difference in your hair after a few days' treatment. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.

COFFEE TRUST INTO COURT

Attorney General Wickersham Files Petition in Equity.

TO PUT 950,000 BAGS ON MARKET

Asks for Receiver to Sell Great Quantity Now Held in Storage—Charges Conspiracy to Hold Up Prices.

New York, May 20.—Attorney General Wickersham moved against the coffee trust, or Brazilian valorization scheme, in a petition in equity filed in the United States court here.

The court is asked to decree the scheme unlawful, to enjoin the valorization committee from withholding coffee from the market and to appoint a receiver to sell the 950,000 bags, valued at $10,000,000, now alleged to be stored in warehouses of the New York Dock company.

Attempt to Defraud Public.
The members of the valorization committee have agreed and conspired among themselves, the government charges, to withhold from the market large quantities of coffee under their control for the purpose of raising the price to an unnatural and unreasonable extent. They have thus attempted, it is alleged, to restrain the coffee trade throughout the world, including interstate and foreign commerce of the United States and "to injure and defraud the public for their own enrichment."

Suit is International.
The suit is international. The Brazilian state of Sao Paulo, the greatest coffee district in the world, is party to the agreements which are declared unlawful in America. The government holds that the Brazilian state was induced to enact laws and enter into agreements in connection with the valorization plan by those interested in maintaining and increasing the price of coffee. The fact that that alleged agreements and conspiracies were not unlawful in Brazil and were participated in by a foreign state, the government holds, cannot justify the commission of any act in the United States to restrain trade. The defendants are:

Herman Slielken of New York; Baron Bruno Schroeder of J. Henry Schroeder & Co., London; Edouard Bunge, Antwerp; Le Vicomte de Touches, Havre; Dr. Paulo Da Silva Prade, Sao Paulo; Theodore Wille, Hamburg; La Societe Generale of Paris, and the New York Dock Company. All the defendants except the last named are members of the valorization committee.

REUTER TRIAL ONLY HALF OVER

After a Week's Work, State Has Shown No Strong Evidence Against Those Accused.

Tulsa, Ok., May 20.—After a hearing lasting nearly a week, the state, in the examination of the four persons suspected of the murder of Charles T. Reuter, an attorney, so far has not introduced testimony to show that Guy D. McKenzie was not in Skiatook, as he asserts, when Reuter was killed. Neither has it established that Mrs. Reuter or McKenzie were parties to a conspiracy to get Reuter out of the way, nor that their friendship was at any time other than proper.

The defense has subpoenaed a number of witnesses. By agreement, Mrs. Reuter will not be placed in jail pending the preliminary.

If the accused are bound over to the district court, the attorneys for the defense will bring habeas corpus action as soon as the record is transcribed and will seek release of their clients on bond.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 20.—The bodies of a motorman, H. F. Sparkman, and his conductor, T. C. Smith, were found lying on Talleyrand avenue, about 75 yards from their car, early in the morning. Both had been shot through the head.

Doctor Boyd studied in the Universities of Pennsylvania and Paris and has been in the diplomatic service of his country for a number of years.

NATURAL GAS KILLING TREES

TOPEKA ALARMED AND REMEDY IS SOUGHT.

Hundreds of Fine Old Elms Ruined By Leaking Mains—Much Other Damage From Same Cause.

Topeka, May.—Topeka is losing hundreds of the fine old elm trees that line its streets and shade its yards and it is believed now that escaping natural gas is responsible. At first it was believed that some insect pest was causing the death of the trees, but this was found not to be the case.

There is hardly a block in the older sections of Topeka where elm trees have not died. The trees with great spreads of roots are the ones most severely injured and the quickest to die. The only way to prevent the destruction of the tree is to find the root that is carrying the gas and cut it off, but even this does not suffice if there are considerable quantities of gas escaping and many roots affected.

Topeka has had a great deal of trouble with escaping gas in different sections of the city. One man was killed, five injured and several thousand dollars of property damaged by the gas escaping from the mains and collecting in pockets of fire cisterns and telephone conduits and exploding from unknown causes. The city has just had to pay $4,500 damages to the widow of a city employe killed when the gas in a fire cistern exploded.

GOLD SEEKERS OF LONG AGO

They Took Large Quantities of the Precious Metal From Brazil 150 Years Ago.

Alexander P. Rogers, a mining engineer who recently made an inland voyage by river from the mouth of the Amazon to Buenos Ayres, found proof that the same regions had been over-run 150 years ago by a band of adventurous goldseekers.

They were remarkably successful in their search for gold, too, and found every mine which is known today in that region.

At a mine near Matto Grosso they had brought in a small army of slaves and cleared off the jungle for a mile around, while others were set to work constructing a long ditch to bring water to the flat below. It was a clever piece of work for men without surveyors' instruments. They cut the ditch through a cement formation that in places was twenty feet deep, and near the lower end they constructed a great chamber in which they ground the ore between huge rocks. Whether they used mercury to amalgamate the gold I could not determine, but several stone tanks and sluices made me think that possibly they did. They built a town around these works with a brick kiln and a distillery as the most important adjuncts. It must have been a busy and exciting place to live in, ruled over by an iron hand, the master's word law in everything, and a cruel law it was.

They took out a large amount of gold. And then, to enjoy it, they had to get out to the civilized world with it, through 3,000 miles of hostile country, where freebooters lay in wait.

To Detect Fire Damp in Mines.

One of the simplest of the many suggested tests for fire damp in mines is that described to the Scottish Society of Arts. It is an attachment that may be applied to any oil or spirit safety lamp, and consists of a loop of copper wire supported on a brass rod passing through the oil vessel. To make a test the loop is moved into the flame. This becomes instantly nonluminous, but if fire damp is present in the air the gas cap is clearly seen. The test can be made in a moment, at any time, without turning down or putting out the light. It is claimed that the percentage of fire damp this method will detect is exceedingly small, and the results of trials in both laboratory and mine go to show that this is one of the most sensitive, accurate, and expeditious means of revealing the presence of inflammable gas in mine or other air.

INFLUENCE OF TEACHERS

Rev. Parvin Says They Stand Next to Preachers in Community—High Praise for Domestic Science.

The baccalaureate services for the Northwest Normal graduating class were largely attended at the First Christian Church Sunday night. The pastor, Rev. Claude J. Miller, had charge of the services.

The special organ numbers by Dr. D. J. Thomas were a fitting opening and closing for an occasion of that kind, and the choir work in three special numbers was of an unusually high order. The processional hymn was very impressive. The solo by Mrs. D. J. Thomas and the trio by Mrs. F. P. Robinson, Mr. Glen Goff and Mr. H. J. Becker were well given as any number these singers have given at any time in our city.

The sermon by Rev. W. J. Parvin on the subject, "A Rightly Applied Life," was thoroughly thoughtful and practical, and the members of the graduating class were not the only persons present who derived benefit from the minister's words.

Before beginning his sermon Rev. Parvin said he wished to tell the students and faculty of the Normal of a compliment he heard passed upon them by a man who had occasion to visit the Normal recently during the chapel hour assembly—the highest compliment that could be paid them from the viewpoint of a minister. He said that the visitor said that he noticed that all the students seemed to be present and that during the prayer every student head was bowed. Then he looked to the faculty and saw that every head of that body was also bowed, and he concluded that with such a spirit of reverence in all Normal schools and colleges and universities throughout the land, there would be no need for denominational schools to keep alive the reverence for God and His Word.

Rev. Parvin's text was from the 12th verse of the 90th Psalm: "So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

"If, after all your study and application, you intend to devote your time to the social whirl, and be leaders in the bunny hug, the grizzly bear dance and the turkey trot, or be ambitious to win the cut glass vase at a game of bridge whist, it would be far better for you to have remained in ignorance and left penniless," Rev. Parvin said during his sermon. "You would be better off as a washwoman than to fritter away your life in social idleness."

Rev. Parvin said: "The Protestant had discovered the shortness and uncertainty of life and he had learned to set a value upon it. Religion is not merely intended to save your soul, it is intended to save your life and make it a blessing to the world—to all who come in contact with you. Our schools are wonderful institutions these days. They are teaching men and women that they are made for service and are bringing about a plan whereby the difficult economic conditions that are confronting us may be solved."

Rev. Parvin rejoiced that the schools of today are teaching a complete education, so that all labor may become honorable and useful in the eyes of even those who only a few years ago were deriding the fact that if our children were not trained for the professions that our boys and girls would be nothing but "hewers of wood and drawers of water." He thanked God that education of these days are making honorable those things and fitting the boys and girls to become the best "hewers of wood and drawers of water."

He exhorted the class to go into the world prepared to work hard and apply their knowledge to something that would be a benefit to the world. Do not stop now, but go to work and do not work for money alone. That is the least thing to be considered. The money will come if you work with the right spirit for money earning capacity has been increased. It is not a question of how much money you get,

but it is a great question of how much you earn. It is better for you to earn more than you get. Do not stagnate, for that is the next thing to damnation. Don't seek popularity, do right and let the consequences be what they may. It is better to be right and be cursed than to be popular and ashamed of yourself.

Remember your influence as a teacher, whether you so recognize it or not, is and should be second only to that of the preacher in your community and you are being watched as close as he.

Rev. Parvin gave unstinted praise to the domestic science department of the Normal and said its students could well become preachers' wives because they were learning how to make a small salary go a long ways.

HOW MANY LOAVES HAVE YE?

Rev. Harkness Drew a Great Lesson from the Parable of the High School Class.

An immense audience that taxed the capacity of the First M. E. Church listened to the baccalaureate sermon of the high school graduating class Sunday night. Rev. Samuel D. Harkness, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was the speaker and his subject was "The Unrealized Possibilities in Life." Rev. Harkness chose for this text a portion of the thirty-eighth verse of the sixth chapter of the Gospel of St. Mark, "How many loaves have ye? go and see." The speaker delivered a very forceful sermon and he closed with a plea to the graduating class of 1912 that they should so conduct themselves in the years to come that they may serve as an inspiration and an example to the coming classes.

A GRAND OLD STATE

IN FRONT RANK OF COMMONWEALTHS FOR ADVANCEMENT

EDUCATION HER BOAST

A Million Children in the Public Schools and Over 80,000 in Higher Institutions of Learning.

"The State of Missouri—a Land of Diversified Plenty," is the title opening chapter of the 1910 Red Book just issued by the state bureau of labor statistics. In a bulletin issued last week, Commissioner Austin W. Biggs points out some of the many advantages and opportunities offered by Missouri and quotes from the 1910 Red Book as follows:

"The wonderful progress which Missouri has made in the past few years has served to place the state in the front rank of the commonwealths which have attracted special attention by their rapid advancement along every line. In fact, no state in the Union has developed so rapidly as Missouri, and no state offers such advantages to the homeseeker.

"Missouri welcomes the settler, the homeseeker and the investor, and offers such opportunities as will tend to produce a happy, contented and prosperous citizenship. To the man with energy and a fair knowledge of the enterprise in which he means to engage the state holds out such inducements as can be found in no other commonwealth."

"Missouri's educational and social progress has kept pace with her advancement along agricultural and commercial lines, and it is our proud boast that throughout the state there is 'a church on every hilltop and a school house in every valley.' Long since has been dissipated the foolish notion that the average Missourian was a walking arsenal, and that a bandit lurked behind every tree. Missouri, with her great state university, her splendid normal schools and her many smaller schools and colleges, all with an attendance of more than 80,000 students, as well as her more than 12,000 high schools and district schools, where more than 1,000,000 children go each year, attest strongly to the fact that this state ranks high in education and culture.

"Because of Missouri's diversified farm products a complete crop failure is unknown. Although Missouri ranks high as an agricultural state, it is safe to say that when her swamp lands, which exceed 2,000,000 acres of fine agricultural land, are properly drained and producing she will take her place at the head of the column and keep it. Whether it be along the lines of agriculture, horticulture, mining, dairying or manufacturing, the state is found in the front rank, leading in many productions and standing high in all others."

PERITONITIS KILLED

N. T. HORNBUCKLE VICTIM OF DISEASE AT HOSPITAL.

ILL ONLY THREE DAYS

Funeral Services Tuesday Afternoon at Myrtle Tree Church—Widow and Six Children Survive.

Noble Thomas Hornbuckle, a well-known farmer living nine miles north-east of Maryville, died at St. Francis hospital Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, where he was taken Saturday night.

Mr. Hornbuckle was taken suddenly ill Thursday forenoon while at work in the field with a complicated case of peritonitis. He attempted to walk to the house, but was unable to walk only a part of the way, when a buggy was brought for him and he was taken to the home of Charles Hollensbe, a neighbor, whose residence was nearer than his own home. Mr. Hornbuckle suffered intensely and he was not able to be moved to his home. Saturday night he was brought to St. Francis hospital, but it was the opinion of five physicians that an operation would not save him, which was verified in the autopsy held.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Myrtle Tree Church, conducted by Rev. Lindenmeyer of Pickering. Burial in Myrtle Tree cemetery.

Mr. Hornbuckle is survived by his wife and six children: Mrs. George Hantz of Pickering; Miss Fay Hornbuckle and Claude, Elmer and Glen Hornbuckle at home, and James Hornbuckle living near Barnard.

Mr. Hornbuckle was born August 12, 1858, in Jackson county, Mo., near Kansas City. By the time he was fifteen years of age both his parents had died and he was left to his own resources. By hard work and good habits of life, which he always maintained, he prospered well and was held in esteem by all who knew him. Sixteen years ago he moved his family to Nodaway county to the farm where he died. He was married on the 20th day of November, 1874, to Miss Anna Lee Houch of Clinton county, where they lived until their removal to Nodaway county.

CONCEPTION WON.

Defeated the Normal Team Saturday By a Score of 10 to 8.

In a nine act comedy drama in which the villain, error played the leading role, the Conception college baseball nine trampled the State Normal ball tossers under their feet at the Normal ball theatre Saturday afternoon by a count of ten to eight. Fifteen bobbles were made in the course of the game and ten of them were marked up against the locals. That number lacked only one of being as many as they have made in all the rest of the games of the season put together. Both Felix, the visiting pitcher, and Wilson, the Normal mound artist, pitched a good game but errors mixed in with hits were responsible for almost all of the runs. Wilson allowed eight hits and struck out eleven while Felix allowed one more hit and whiffed eight.

Bee Keeping for Women.

"Nothing could induce us to give up bee keeping for, aside from the profit, the larger returns of health and happiness, the pure joy of living in the sunshine and watching the tireless workers as they come in with loads of pollen and nectar outweigh any financial consideration," says a writer in Farmer's Wife.

To sum it all up bee keeping is pre-eminently a "woman's job" whether for pleasure or profit or for a combination of both. The financial returns compare favorably with anything else from farm or garden, while to those who love outdoor life bee keeping is the most fascinating of all avocations.

GROWING DEAF? Probably 99 per cent of persons over fifty years of age are more or less affected as to their hearing, but as we have, naturally, a far greater capacity for hearing than we need, a little less of that capacity is not observable unless a test is applied, such, for instance, as listening to the tick of a watch. Ordinarily one should hear such a sound at a distance of 50 inches, however, a test won't be controlled to some extent by the make of the watch. A heavy rough made movement in a watch would, of course, make a louder and rougher noise, while the machinery of a fine watch would give forth a more delicate sound that would not strike the hearing forcibly.

It is true that science, has not, up to this day, found a cure for deafness any more than it has discovered something to bring a growth of hair to the shiny bald head, and yet by the use of trumpets, fans and other devices of the kind, those quite deaf may be made to hear, and a wig will, in a way, give one a "good head of hair." Neither of these methods, however, are entirely satisfactory.

The cause of the loss of hearing is rarely ever what it is generally supposed to be and hence the efforts usually made to cure deafness are rarely successful.

It is generally supposed that the imbedding and hardening of wax in the ears is the frequent cause of deafness. It is only a very rare cause, and in most cases the very thing that causes the hardening of wax in the ears is the real cause of the deafness. When the ear is perfectly healthy, the formation of wax cannot be too great in the inner ear. It is a secretion as natural and necessary to the hearing as any other secretion of the human system that has a duty to perform. Moreover, this wax should never be removed with ear picks or any other instrument. If there comes a time when hardening wax must be removed it should be done by a physician with warm water and a syringe properly curved at the nozzle. In attempting this yourself there is a great danger of damage to the delicate tissues of the ear drum. The wax when in normal condition should not be removed.

from the inner ear. When it has flowed to the hollow of the outer ear, it may be cleaned away by a wash rag in the regular morning or evening washings. There is an old German proverb which ought to be the law because it is such good advice: "Never put anything into your ear smaller than your elbow."

The first attack of deafness is rarely permanent, but to prevent the loss of hearing, it is best to ward off, as much as possible, the causes. This can be largely done by keeping near, in the bathroom, bedroom, medicine chest or on a convenient shelf, a nasal spray or douche and some kind of a mild alkaline and antiseptic wash. When you have been exposed to an infection, a common cold or other disease, in crowded, stuffy and unsanitary atmosphere, or when you are feeling a drying, tickling sensation in your nose and throat, use this wash thoroughly, and by constant vigilance you will not only ward off deafness but also colds and other distresses of the throat, ears, eyes, brain, lungs, etc. Under all circumstances this is "an ounce of prevention" that is worth all attempts to cure, because a deep set case of deafness has, in most cases, come to stay.

CLUB NOTES

Dear Doctor: Kindly inform me if there is any cure for lateral curvature of the spine. State the effects of it, and if there is nothing done to relieve this condition, will it go from bad to worse?

I know a young woman who is now a teacher of physical culture. When about 20 she developed a lateral curvature of the spine. I put her on a severe course of physical exercises and inside of one year she was perfectly straight and in better health than ever before. Where there is a will there is a way. You can be straightened if you will to be, and then practice regularly and vigorously the proper exercises. Osteopathy would help but you must do most of the work.

A horizontal bar is one of the requisites. Of course, it will grow worse if you do nothing to hinder it from so doing.

DR. DAVID H. REEDER.

Dear Doctor: In cases of too much acid in the blood is there anything except Fowler's Solution of Arsenic that I could take to overcome the difficulty? And is there any danger in taking the solution, say 8 months or more? I have Eczema, and it's very distressing. Have had it four or five years by spells.

I never recommend poisons of any kind under any circumstances as a medicine. Any condition of the blood can be changed by a properly selected diet. Acidity is caused primarily by fermentation of the food in the alimentary canal. Go to the source of the disease, change your diet, don't eat so much but chew more, drink at least a gallon of water daily. Try this for two months and let me have a report at that time. If necessary, I will then give you more specific directions.

Regains His Composure and is Prepared for the End.

BODY TO REST IN FAMILY LOT

Father of Murderer Relents at Last Moment and Will Permit Burial in Spot Chosen by Condemned Son.

Boston, May 20.—"I have made my peace with God; I am resigned to my fate. I wish now to go to my death as soon as possible, the quicker the better."

These words were spoken by Clarence V. T. Richeson, former Baptist minister and confessed slayer of Avis Linnell, to the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, his spiritual adviser. They expressed the mental condition of the condemned man, whose tenure of life is now measured only by hours.

There is much reason to believe that he will go to his death in the electric chair shortly after midnight Tuesday morning.

No Time for Sleep.

Reclining on a cot in his death cell, Richeson talked long and earnestly with Mr. Johnson and the prison chaplain, the Rev. Herbert W. Stebbins.

"I do not want to sleep. I have so little time to live and so much I want to say that I must talk," he said.

Part of the conversation was of a meditative and religious nature, and part was reminiscent. The prisoner reviewed countless incidents of his college days in Liberty Mo.

When the hour of death arrives three physicians, the prison doctor, the county medical examiner and the surgeon general of the commonwealth, will attend as the legal witnesses. The prison chaplain also is entitled to attend.

Reporters May Attend.

Besides these there may be three witnesses designated by the warden. An appeal having been made to Gov. Foss by press associations for representation, the warden decided to accede to the wishes of the governor, and probably will name as the three other witnesses representatives of three press associations. Richeson had requested that his counsel, William A. Morse, be present, but the warden was compelled to deny the request, as all the witnesses permitted by law had been arranged for.

Richeson was deeply pleased when told that his father had promised his body should lie beside that of his mother in the family lot in Virginia.

After visiting Richeson Dr. MacLaughlin, the prison physician, said that he found the condemned man in a satisfactory condition.

"He is calm and resigned, and resting easily," said the doctor.

Douglas Richeson of Chicago, a brother of the condemned man, arrived in Boston and planned to visit the death house during the evening.

SOCIALISTS FAVOR SUFFRAGE

The National Convention Bids for Women's Vote—Much Attention Given White Slave Traffic.

Indianapolis, May 20.—The national convention of the Socialists of the United States adjourned with the members entirely satisfied with the outcome. It had nominated a national ticket, evenly balanced, the presidential candidate being one of the most radical labor leaders, Eugene V. Debs of Terre Haute, and the second place on the ticket filled by Emil Seidel, conservative and advocate of the "Milwaukee Idea."

The convention went squarely on record late in the day as in favor of woman's suffrage in every form and hit the hardest blow at the white slave traffic ever aimed by any national gathering. It pledged the party, in every community where it obtains control, to abolish all restricted districts and to prosecute all resort proprietors.

MAY FESTIVAL DREW BIG CROWD

Missouri University Girls Gave Play After Coronation of Queen and Parade.

Columbia, Mo., May 20.—Miss Jean Harris of the May, was crowned Queen of the May by the University of Missouri coeds on the campus here. The coronation festivities attracted hundreds of visitors to the campus.

The women of the university marched under huge green arches, led by the queen and Miss Iva Thomas of Kansas City, president of the senior girls. The girls, formed according to their class. At the throne, erected at the foot of the columns, Miss Thomas placed the crown of flowers on Miss Harris. Following that there was a May pole dance. The girls presented "The Blue Bird" on the campus at night.

Veterans to Meet.

Maryville, Kan., May 20.—An interstate Kansas-Nebraska old soldiers' reunion is to be held in this city in August. W. H. Smith of this city is president of the association just formed and Capt. C. M. Murdock of Wymore, Neb., is vice-president.

Johnson Threatens Blacklist for All Strikers.

ENTIRE NEW TEAM FOR DETROIT

Says United Strength of all Organized Baseball Will be Used to Maintain Discipline—Jennings to Stay.

Philadelphia, May 20.—"Play or be blacklisted" was the smashing ultimatum that President Ban Johnson of the American league aimed at the striking Detroit players. To clinch his argument he made the statement that the Detroit team could not appear against the Athletics unless the regular men were in the lineup. When the Detroit men heard this they said they would not appear unless Cobb was reinstated. Then the president cancelled the game and called a meeting of all American league club presidents to be held in this city immediately. Ty Cobb, says Johnson, has been eliminated from the discussion of the matter. It is now the question of insubordination that the magnate has to deal with.

Waited for Navin.

The chief of the American league arrived here in the afternoon and waited until late in the evening in the hope that before making a statement he could pay to President Navin of the Detroit club the courtesy of conferring with him first. But when President Navin failed to put in an appearance President Johnson took action himself and announced that he whole power of the American league, of the forces of organized baseball in fact would be combined in crushing out of effort of the players to end the reign of organized discipline.

Summarized these are the vital points of the methods by which President Johnson will end the insurrection.

The Cobb case is dismissed absolutely from the argument. The issue is one that goes far beyond that. The refusal of the Detroit players to play in the game on Saturday is insubordination and until that offense is dealt with and the team is on the field again the case of Cobb will never be considered. In other words Detroit must play or the baseball career of Cobb is ended.

Jennings Keeps His Job.

There will be no game at Shibe park nor will a Detroit team take the field on Tuesday for the first game at Washington. But by Wednesday in case the striking players have not succeeded in making their peace with the American league an entirely new Detroit team will have been formed and they will play out the remainder of the schedule.

In case a new Detroit team is put in the field, probabilities are that for the unheard of offense of refusing to play, the striking players will be blacklisted or suspended for an extended period.

Manager Jennings has just put himself in line with Johnson and agreed to do whatever President Johnson might desire, including taking the job of managing the new team which will be put in the field in place of the club that Jennings led.

In this way Jennings keeps his job even though the men he failed to advise and lead are running a serious risk of being deprived of employment in their profession forever.

MELVILLE, LA., IS INUNDED

Levee on Atchafalaya River Gave Way—Government Steamer Sent to the Rescue.

Baton Rouge, La., May 20.—The town of Melville was inundated when the levee on the west bank of the Atchafalaya river, 16 miles north, broke. Less than half of the town's 1,100 population remained. Many left to avoid the long threatened submerging of their homes. Capt. Logan, in charge of the federal rescue corps dispatched the steamship Minnesota with a barge to Melville to bring away those who wished to leave, together with their household effects and live stock.

DUMPED SIXTY INTO THE WATER

Steamer's Gangplank Broke, Drowning Two and Injuring Over Forty Others.

Seattle, Wash., May 20.—Two persons were drowned and 40 or more were injured when the adjustable end of a temporary passenger gangplank at the Colman dock dropped, precipitating 60 passengers into the water. They were preparing to board the Sound steamer Flyer for Tacoma. Most of the injured were only slightly bruised or cut by striking against piling or the hull of the Flyer when they fell into the water, and all will recover.

Cutting Alfalfa Now.

Courtland, Kan., May 20.—The first crop of alfalfa is being cut near Courtland. It is almost two weeks earlier than usual in this section. The crop will be a heavy one and is being cut earlier this year because of the scarcity of feed.

Stearns & Foster Mattresses

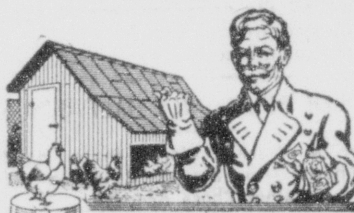

If you will come and see the Mattress display in our show window all this week, you will readily understand why these Mattresses are so comfortable, so durable, so thoroughly good in every way that there is really no comparison between them and other makes. The display shows how the Mattresses are made, how one layer of material—the best always—is placed above another, how the nine layers are compressed together and how finally the whole mattress is completed. It is an interesting exhibit and an instructive one, and if you are wise a profitable one.

We have the exclusive sale of these mattresses and the line represents the following: Lenox, Paragon, Mission, Windsor and Anchor.

Don't forget that the exhibit will be in our window all this week. We want to sell 100 mattresses during this demonstration and in order to do so will make a special price on every mattress. It will be to your advantage to come early.

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made from Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs which unfortunately are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hair, however handsome it may be, makes a person look old. We all know the advantages of being young. Aside from the good impression a youthful appearance makes on others, simply knowing that you are "looking fit" gives one courage to undertake and accomplish things. So why suffer the handicap of looking old on account of gray hairs, when a simple remedy will give your hair youthful color and beauty in a few days' time? Most people know that common garden sage acts as a color restorer and scalp tonic as well. Our grandmothers used a "Sage Tea" for keeping their hair dark, soft and luxuriant. In Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy we have an ideal preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp and thin, weak hair that is split at the ends or constantly coming out. A few applications of this valuable remedy will bring back the color, and in a short time it will remove every trace of dandruff and greatly improve the growth and appearance of the hair.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and notice the difference in your hair after a few days' treatment. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.

COFFEE TRUST INTO COURT

Attorney General Wickersham Files Petition in Equity.

TO PUT 950,000 BAGS ON MARKET

Asks for Receiver to Sell Great Quantity Now Held in Storage—Charges Conspiracy to Hold Up Prices.

New York, May 20.—Attorney General Wickersham moved against the coffee trust, or Brazilian valorization scheme, in a petition in equity filed in the United States court here.

The court is asked to decree the scheme unlawful, to enjoin the valorization committee from withholding coffee from the market and to appoint a receiver to sell the 950,000 bags, valued at $10,000,000, now alleged to be stored in warehouses of the New York Dock company.

Attempt to Defraud Public.

The members of the valorization committee have agreed and conspired among themselves, the government charges, to withhold from the market large quantities of coffee under their control for the purpose of raising the price to an unnatural and unreasonable extent. They have thus attempted, it is alleged, to restrain the coffee trade throughout the world, including interstate and foreign commerce of the United States and "to injure and defraud the public for their own enrichment."

Suit is International.

The suit is international. The Brazilian state of Sao Paulo, the greatest coffee district in the world, is party to the agreements which are declared unlawful in America. The government holds that the Brazilian state was induced to enact laws and enter into agreements in connection with the valorization plan by those interested in maintaining and increasing the price of coffee. The fact that that alleged agreements and conspiracies were not unlawful in Brazil and were participated in by a foreign state, the government holds, cannot justify the commission of any act in the United States to restrain trade. The defendants are:

Herman Slietken of New York, Baron Bruno Schroeder of J. Henry Schroeder & Co., London; Edouard Bunge, Antwerp; Le Vicomte de Touches, Havre; Dr. Paulo Da Silva Prado, Sao Paulo; Theodore Wille, Hamburg; La Societe Generale de Paris, and the New York Dock Company. All the defendants except the last named are members of the valorization committee.

After a Week's Work, State Has Shown No Strong Evidence Against Those Accused.

Tulsa, Ok., May 20.—After a hearing lasting nearly a week, the state, in the examination of the four persons suspected of the murder of Charles T. Reuter, an attorney, so far has not introduced testimony to show that Guy D. McKenzie was not in Skiatook, as he asserts, when Reuter was killed. Neither has it established that Mrs. Reuter or McKenzie were parties to a conspiracy to get Reuter out of the way, nor that their friendship was at any time other than proper.

The defense has subpoenaed a number of witnesses. By agreement, Mrs. Reuter will not be placed in jail pending the preliminary.

If the accused are bound over to the district court, the attorneys for the defense will bring habeas corpus action as soon as the record is transcribed and will seek release of their clients on bond.

NATURAL GAS KILLING TREES

TOPEKA ALARMED AND REMEDY IS SOUGHT.

Hundreds of Fine Old Elms Ruined By Leaking Mains—Much Other Damage From Same Cause.

Topeka, May.—Topeka is losing hundreds of the fine old elm trees that line its streets and shade its yards and it is believed now that escaping natural gas is responsible. At first it was believed that some insect pest was causing the death of the trees, but this was found not to be the case.

There is hardly a block in the older sections of Topeka where elm trees have not died. The trees with great spreads of roots are the ones most severely injured and the quickest to die. The only way to prevent the destruction of the tree is to find the root that is carrying the gas and cut it off, but even this does not suffice if there are considerable quantities of gas escaping and many roots affected.

Topeka has had a great deal of trouble with escaping gas in different sections of the city. One man was killed, five injured and several thousand dollars of property damaged by the gas escaping from the mains and collecting in pockets by fire cylinders and telephone conduits and exploding from unknown causes. The city has just had to pay $4,500 damages to the widow of a city employee killed when the gas in a fire cistern exploded.

WILL RENEW MOTOR CAR SERVICE

Experiments With Suburban Service Out of St. Joseph to Be Re-Established Temporarily.

St. Joseph, May 20.—The St. Joseph & Grand Island railroad has decided to give motor cars another trial. A year ago the company placed a number of motor cars in service between St. Joseph and Hanover, Kan., and Hanover and Grand Island, Neb., but it was said they were not profitable and they were taken off last fall.

General Manager Stenger announced that the motors will be re-established June 1 for four months, and if it is found they pay, they will be continued. The Chicago Great Western took off its motor cars between St. Joseph and Blockton, Ia., several months ago.

TRY SKIN GRAFTING AT NEVADA

Woman Hurt in Motor Accident May be Saved by Modern Methods.

Nevada, Mo., May 20.—Prof. E. R. Foster, principal of the Nevada high school, and Ernest Weltmer, an official of Weltmer institute, gave strips of skin several inches in length to be grafted on the arm of Mrs. G. C. Baldwin, Nevada society leader, who was injured in a motor car accident here some time ago. The operation was performed by Dr. I. W. Amerman and Dr. V. O. Williams of this city. It is believed the graft was a success.

Robbed a Circus.

Rock Springs, Wyo., May 20.—The ticket wagon of a circus was held up and robbed here of $1,700. The robbers arrived on the circus grounds after the show started, and after taking all of the money from the ticket wagon, escaped into the mountains.

Baseball Killed Him.

Cincinnati, May 20.—Frank H. Barnett, 43 years old, died at League park just following the Reds-Giants baseball game. Heart disease brought on by excitement over the game was given as the reason for Barnett's death.

Train Kills Aged Oklahoman.

Anadarko, Ok., May 20.—A man 84 years old named Mondell was run over and killed by the Rock Island passenger train. He failed to heed the warning of the engineer to get off the track.

GOLD SEEKERS OF LONG AGO

They Took Large Quantities of the Precious Metal From Brazil 150 Years Ago.

Alexander P. Rogers, a mining engineer who recently made an inland voyage by river from the mouth of the Amazon to Buenos Ayres, found proof that the same regions had been overrun 150 years ago by a band of adventurous goldseekers.

They were remarkably successful in their search for gold, too, and found every mine which is known today in that region.

At a mine near Matto Grosso they had brought in a small army of slaves and cleared off the jungle for a mile around, while others were set to work constructing a long ditch to bring water to the flat below. It was a clever piece of work for men without surveyors' instruments. They cut the ditch through a cement formation that in places was twenty feet deep, and near the lower end they constructed a great chamber in which they ground the ore between huge rocks. Whether they used mercury to amalgamate the gold I could not determine, but several stone tanks and sluices made me think that possibly they did. They built a town around these works with a brick kiln and a distillery as the most important adjuncts. It must have been a busy and exciting place to live in, ruled over by an iron hand, the master's word law in everything, and a cruel law it was.

They took out a large amount of gold. And then, to enjoy it, they had to get out to the civilized world with it, through 3,000 miles of hostile country, where freebooters lay in wait.

To Detect Fire Damp in Mines.

One of the simplest of the many suggested tests for fire damp in mines is that described to the Scottish Society of Arts. It is an attachment that may be applied to any oil or spirit safety lamp, and consists of a loop of copper wire supported on a brass rod passing through the oil vessel. To make a test the loop is moved into the flame. This becomes instantly nonluminous, but if fire damp is present in the air the gas cap is clearly seen. The test can be made in a moment, at any time, without turning down or putting out the light. It is claimed that the percentage of fire damp this method will detect is exceedingly small, and the results of trials in both laboratory and mine go to show that this is one of the most sensitive, accurate, and expeditious means of revealing the presence of inflammable gas in mine or other air.
